

Keep FEMA Updated

Release Date: November 29, 2022

Anchorage, Alaska – If you applied for assistance with FEMA, you need to stay in touch to update the agency with any new information, particularly your housing situation. It is important to keep FEMA informed if you experience any changes in insurance and contact information as soon as possible and as often as necessary. FEMA may need to contact you, and missing or wrong information could delay the delivery of assistance. When contacting FEMA, keep handy the nine-digit number assigned to you when you applied.

FEMA encourages you to always reach out to get answers to your questions. You can ask about the status of your application or other topics ranging from home inspections to information on appealing FEMA's eligibility determination or adding the name of someone to speak for the applicant.

Here is how to keep in touch with FEMA:

- Login or create an account at DisasterAssistance.gov;
- Call the Alaska-based FEMA hotline at 1-866-342-1699. For TTY users, dial 711. For TTY users with an out-of-state area code, dial 1-800-770-8973 for Alaska Relay; or,
- Download the FEMA mobile app

When contacting FEMA, be sure to refer to the application number you were issued when you applied. This number is included in all correspondence you get from FEMA.

If you have not yet applied for FEMA help, please do so before Dec. 6, 2022.
